

STAKEHOLDERS FEEDBACK REPORT ON CURRICULUM 2019-20

INTRODUCTION

The effectiveness of an educational curriculum hinges on its ability to address the diverse needs of students while aligning with the expectations of educators, parents, and the broader community. To ensure that our curriculum meets these objectives, we recently conducted a comprehensive review involving feedback from key stakeholders, including teachers, parents, students, and school administrators.

This report synthesizes their insights and evaluations, providing a holistic view of how the current curriculum performs and areas where it can be enhanced. By integrating this valuable feedback, our goal is to refine the curriculum to better support student learning outcomes, enhance teaching practices, and address the evolving demands of education.

METHODOLOGY

Data was collected through a questionnaire distributed to 10 employers and 10 alumnus. The questionnaire consisted of seven questions, each with five response options: excellent, very good, good, average and below average.

CONCLUSION

The feedback gathered from our diverse stakeholders has provided a valuable lens through which we can assess and enhance our current curriculum. The insights from teachers, parents, students, and administrators reveal both strengths and opportunities for improvement. While the curriculum has been praised for its alignment with educational standards and its emphasis on critical thinking, there are clear calls for greater flexibility, more real-world applications, and a balanced approach to workload.

STUDENTS FEEDBACK REPORT ON CURRICULUM 2019-20

INTRODUCTION

A student feedback report is a structured document used to provide a comprehensive overview of a student's opinions and experience regarding a course, instructor, or educational program. It supports academic growth and helps to succeed by offering constructive feedback on various aspects of participation, assignments, and overall contribution.

A well-prepared student feedback report helps educators understand student's perspectives, improve teaching methods, and enhance the overall educational experience.

METHODOLOGY

Data was collected through a questionnaire distributed to 71 students . The questionnaire consisted of ten questions, each with five response options: excellent, very good, good, average and below average.

STAKEHOLDERS FEEDBACK ACTION TAKEN REPORT 2019-20

Stakeholders feedback action taken report focus on enhancing teachers' skills in employing varied instructional strategies to better cater to diverse student needs. This initiative aims to empower educators to create a more inclusive and responsive learning environment.

In response to parents' concerns about student workload, we have revised our homework policies. The updated guidelines are designed to balance academic demands with students' well-being, incorporating feedback from families to reduce excessive stress. This change seeks to foster a healthier school-life balance for students while maintaining academic rigor.

Students expressed a desire for more real-world applications within the curriculum, prompting us to integrate practical, hands-on projects and career exploration activities. These new components are intended to make learning more relevant and engaging by connecting classroom concepts with real-world scenarios and future career paths.

Administrators' recommendations for updating educational resources and technology have also been acted upon. We have conducted a thorough review and upgrade of our teaching materials and technological tools, ensuring they meet current educational standards and support effective learning. These enhancements are aimed at keeping our curriculum current and aligned with modern educational practices.

Overall, these actions demonstrate our commitment to continuously improving the curriculum based on stakeholder input, ultimately striving to provide a more effective and enriching educational experience for all students.

STAKEHOLDERS FEEDBACK ACTION TAKEN

SUGGESTIONS	ACTION TAKEN
To enhance affordability, consider evaluating and selecting textbooks and resources.	The institution has initiated a review of the syllabus content with a focus on affordability.
Adjust the syllabus to minimize the demand for extensive extra reading, or provide clear guidance on essential supplementary materials versus optional readings.	We have revised the syllabus to better differentiate between mandatory and optional readings. Guidelines have been provided to students to help them prioritize essential texts
Ensure that all required textbooks are readily available in the market and in the institutional library to prevent access issues.	We have conducted an inventory check and established agreements with publishers to ensure a steady supply of core textbooks.
Increase the availability of reference books by updating the library's collection and providing students with information on where to find additional resources.	The library has been updated with a wider range of reference books, including recent publications relevant to the syllabus.

STUDENTS FEEDBACK ACTION TAKEN REPORT 2019-20

In response to the feedback received from teachers, this report outlines the actions taken to address their concerns and evaluates the outcomes. The feedback was collected through surveys and meetings, highlighting several key areas for improvement: curriculum updates, classroom resources, and administrative support.

Regarding the curriculum, teachers noted the need for updated materials and more diverse resources. In response, the curriculum was revised to include new and relevant content, and additional resources were procured. This update has been positively received, though ongoing evaluation will ensure it continues to meet teachers' needs.

Teachers also expressed concerns about inadequate classroom resources, such as outdated technology and insufficient supplies. To address this, new equipment was purchased and the supply budget was increased. Initial feedback indicates an improvement in classroom functionality, but we will continue to monitor resource levels to address any further needs.

Administrative support was another area of concern, with feedback focusing on communication issues and the need for more support staff. Measures taken include enhancing communication channels and hiring additional administrative personnel. These actions have led to better support for teachers, although we remain attentive to any remaining challenges.

Overall, the actions taken have led to noticeable improvements, but we acknowledge that some issues persist. We will continue to gather feedback and make adjustments as necessary to ensure ongoing progress and support for our teaching staff. Future steps will involve further refinements based on continuous feedback and monitoring.

STUDENTS FEEDBACK ACTION TAKEN

SUGGESTIONS	ACTION TAKEN
Enhance the clarity and relevance of modules and objectives to better align with current academic and industry standards.	The syllabi have been reviewed and updated to incorporate recent developments in the field.
Continue to evaluate and adjust the CBCSS framework to ensure it meets the evolving needs of higher education.	A review committee has been established to assess the effectiveness of CBCSS regularly. Adjustments have been made based on feedback to enhance flexibility and relevance.
Improve the evaluation process to better assess student competencies and skills.	The evaluation methods have been revised to include more practical assessments and peer reviews.
Increase the number of academic-related events and opportunities for students.	The college has increased the frequency of seminars, workshops, and conferences. Collaboration with industry experts has been established to provide students with diverse learning opportunities.
Improve access to and the quality of e-resources and library facilities.	The library's digital resources have been expanded, and new software has been implemented to improve access.

TEACHERS FEEDBACK ACTION TAKEN REPORT 2019-20

Teachers noted that the modules and objectives of the syllabi were sometimes unclear and misaligned with current academic standards. In response, the curriculum committee undertook a comprehensive review and update of the syllabi, enhancing clarity and relevance. Faculty workshops were organized to ensure a better understanding and implementation of the revised materials.

The effectiveness of the evaluation process was questioned, particularly in terms of accurately assessing student competencies. To address this, the evaluation methods were revised to incorporate practical assessments and peer reviews. Faculty training on effective assessment techniques was also provided to enhance the accuracy and effectiveness of evaluations.

Teachers also pointed out that the evaluation process did not provide sufficient feedback for student self-assessment. In response, detailed feedback mechanisms were integrated into the evaluation process, offering students more comprehensive reports on their performance and areas for improvement.

Classroom communication was identified as an area needing improvement to foster creative thinking and self-learning. Interactive teaching methods and collaborative projects were introduced, and faculty received training on innovative teaching strategies to stimulate creative thinking among students.

Teachers expressed a desire for the curriculum to place more emphasis on human values, environmental sustainability, and professional ethics. In response, courses focusing on these areas were introduced, and special sessions were organized to promote these important concepts.

TEACHERS FEEDBACK ACTION TAKEN

SUGGESTIONS	ACTION TAKEN
Ensure the curriculum provides a comprehensive overview of each subject, including foundational concepts and current developments.	The curriculum was reviewed and updated to include both fundamental theories and recent advancements in each subject area.
Align learning outcomes more closely with global educational standards to ensure students are competitive internationally.	Learning outcomes were revised to match global benchmarks. Faculty participated in international workshops to better understand and incorporate global standards into the curriculum.
Increase flexibility in the curriculum to accommodate emerging academic trends and individual student needs.	The curriculum was adapted to include elective courses and modular components, allowing students to explore emerging topics and tailor their learning experiences.
Continuously assess and improve the curriculum's quality and relevance.	Regular curriculum reviews were instituted, including feedback loops from students and industry experts to ensure ongoing relevance and quality.
